In some of the Baltic lands, the gifts are supposed to be brought by the Christ child (Kris Kringle) himself.

The children in France leave their wooden shoes on the hearth for their presents from "Bonhomme Noel" (Father Christmas).

In Norway the children hunt for their toys which have been hidden in unexpected places.

In Italy the presents are drawn from the "Urn of Fate" -- a custom originating in the Urn of Fate of the ancient Romans. Some of the parcels are empty which makes the drawings exciting and disappoints the little children at first until they understand that there will be gifts for all.

Christmas carols are also sung throughout the world, and almost every country has its own. In England "waits" sing under windows on Christmas eve. The French Noel songs and the German "Kristlieder" are heard wherever Christmas music is. In our country, school children and choirs have carol parties and go about singing to shut-ins.

The Christmas tree, with its lights, star and decorations, is as much a part of Christmas as the carols. Its first appearance was along the Rhine in the 16th century. The fashion spread in the 19th century through Germany and 50 years later had spread to all countries.

Many customs of various lands have spread to this country where people are gathered from all countries. Thus the idea of placing the Christmas tree outside with bits of apple, cookies, nuts and seeds for the birds has grown from the Scandinavian custom of placing a sheaf of grain on a tall pole in the dooryard for the birds on Christmas morning.

The street festival with bonfires and fireworks in Italy and Spain have probably been replaced in the United States by the community Christmas tree which is set up in the center of the city and everyone gathers round to sing Christmas carols.

We, in this country, owe our Santa Claus to the Dutch settlers of New York who

MUSICAL PROGRAM PRESENTED AT GUILD

A musical program of Christmas music by Fairhaven High School students, directed by Miss Elizabeth Hastings, supervisor of instrumental music in the Fairhaven schools, was presented at the meeting of the Women's Community Guild of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church last Tuesday afternoon in the vestry.

Mrs. Laurence N. Raymond, president, led the devotional service. Mrs. David C. Moore, treasurer, reported on the successful fair with proceeds of more than $525. It was voted to purchase a $5 Christmas Seal bond for the work of the Plymouth County Health Association. One-third of the church insurance will be paid by the guild.

Miss Alice Ordway, home department chairman, announced that gifts and offerings from the white gift service on December 19 will be used for Christmas cheer baskets. The gifts should include cookies, candy, fruit and jelly.

An invitation to open house at the newly-renovated parsonage on New Years Day from 3 to 6 P. M. was given by Mrs. Frederic E. Reynard. It will be open to all members of the parish.

Pouring at the attractively set tea table were Mrs. Walter Mason and Mrs. Charles Williams. Assisting the hostess, Miss Dorothy Fox, were Mrs. Elizabeth Bieringer, Mrs. Grace Engesser, Mrs. Morton Pierce, Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Frank Holden.

TWO ONE-ACT PLAYS WELL PRESENTED

A large audience attended the two one-act plays, "Accent on Revenge" and "By the Beautiful Sea", Friday evening in the Mattapoisett Center School auditorium. The plays, presented by students of the ninth grade, were well acted and credit is due the coaches, Mrs. Theodore Agnalt, Mrs. John Mulcahy and Mrs. Lee S. Root of the Center School faculty.

"Accent on Revenge" took place in a sorority house at a girl's college. The girls were discussing their dates for the coming dance, and complications arose when it was discovered that one girl had two dates for the dance. Everything turned out well at the end, as another girl not interested in dances was finally procured for the extra date. The cast included Jean Alden, Nancy Dexter, Ann Farley, Patricia Lacari, Ellen Mahoney, Lucille Mandeville, Lynn Nottage and Kathleen Radcliffe.

"By the Beautiful Sea" took place on the terrace of a hotel at a summer resort and featured Florence Dexter, Ruth Downing, Ann Fitzgerald, Betsy Huggins, Frances Hyland, Lee Nottage and Susan Rowland.

Between plays, the Glee Club entertained with a number of selections, directed by Mrs. Root and accompanied by Ellen Mahoney. Their selections included "An Old Refrain", Halka had a Rooster", "Keep in the Middle of the Road" and "Shadow March".

Assisting in the production were Jovina Santos, stage manager; Pamela MacLennan, properties; Lewis Silveira, program; George Correa,
